

The Berman Pond

There's nothing like a pond filled with happy koi to greet you at your door after a long day's work. Monette's pond is a perfect example of an entrance water feature.

She's cleverly hidden the ProBead 2000 biofilter and 40-watt UV behind a potted plant and her Cal 5000 pump is submerged although she has plans to install an external pump in the near future. Her 1300-gallon pond contains large koi many of whom she's raised from little ones and is well-planted. She uses a large boulder by the pond as her seat for feeding and enjoying the koi.
