

The King's Courtyard

The courtyard is a formal European design using herbs as the garden theme — delighting our sense of smell with such things as thyme planted in the cracks of the rocked floor.

The pond is raised in the exact center of the courtyard and is rectangular with a sheet of water flowing from both short ends. Several goldfish swim about in the 400 or so gallons. The pond has a bead filter, air pump and external pump.

